

Stella Ng, PhD

Audiologist, Reg. CASLPO

---

Bio:

Stella grew up in Timmins and Cambridge Ontario before moving to London in 2000. In addition to clinical practice, Stella conducts research in health professional education and interprofessional communication and teaches in health professional training programs and at professional development events. Clinically, Stella believes in a patient/family-centered, collaborative, respectful hearing healthcare model driven by patient needs and supported by research evidence, professional integrity, and reflective practice.

Audiology Background:

Stella practiced for five years as an educational audiologist with prior clinical experience in private practice and medical settings. Stella has published her audiology-related research in the Journal of the American Academy of Audiology and the Journal of Educational Audiology (JEA) and now serves as a peer reviewer for JEA and other academic journals.

Education:

Post-doctoral fellow in Health Care, Technology, and Place (ongoing)
PhD in Health Professional Education
MSc in Audiology
BA (Hons) in Perception & Communication Science

A Snapshot of Audiology Teaching Experience:

Professional Issues & Clinical Management (Lecturer)
Evidence-Based Practice (Working Group Leader)
Advanced Amplification (Teaching Assistant)

Professional Memberships:

Canadian Academy of Audiology
College of Audiologists and Speech Language Pathologists of Ontario
Educational Audiology Association
Ontario Association of Speech-Language Pathologists & Audiologists

